Rio de Janeiro - Iguacu - Manaus

01 Day: International arrival in Rio de Janeiro

Assistance on your arrival in Rio de Janeiro and transfer to your selected hotel. Free time to rest and prepare for starting your trip around this unusual city and magical country.

Meals Included: None

02 Day: Rio de Janeiro - half day tour to Pan de Azucar Hill - Copacabana - Ipanema

You will visit one of the most important landmarks in the city, Pan de Azucar Hill, which makes for a classic post card photo and a must see attraction. The tour begins at the beaches of Flamengo and Botafogo, pausing at the Praia Vermelha cable car station, the point at which you begin the ascent to the top of Pan de Azucar. There are two sections on the cable car ride, first from Praia Vermelha Station to the Urca Station, and then from Urca Station to the hilltop ( 396 m ). Once there, you are blessed with an unbelievable vista of the city and beaches, as well as the meeting of the Guanabara Bay with the Atlantic Ocean that is simply a marvel.

The Fortaleza de São João da Barra do Rio de Janeiro, popularly known as the Fortaleza de São João or Forte São João, is a 16th-century star fort in the present-day Urca neighborhood of Rio de Janeiro, erected by Estácio de Sá to protect Guanabara Bay from French invasion.

Copacabana - Ipanema: Famed for its crescent-shaped beach, Copacabana is one of Rio's liveliest neighborhoods, drawing a cross-section of locals and visitors to round-the-clock activity along its sands and mosaic-tiled promenade. Amid the high-rises overlooking the beach are the art deco Copacabana Palace hotel and imposing Copacabana Fort, home to a military museum. Inland, laid-back sidewalk cafes and casual bars line tranquil streets.

and Portuguese snacks. Travessa do Comércio: Old commercial part of the city. Cobblestones and beautiful colorful colonial houses. Today this area is full of cozy bars and restaurants to enjoy happy-hour after the tour!

XV Square: One of the most important squares of Rio de Janeiro. In this square we'll find the old port of the city, the Imperial Palace and two important churches.

Paço Imperial ( Imperial Palace ): The house of the Royal Portuguese Family when they moved to Rio de Janeiro 1808! Inside of the palace we'll see some old pictures of the area and the emperors of Brazil.

Cinelandia: One of the main attractions of our Rio de Janeiro of Downtown and Lapa. The name of Cinelandia comes from cinema! It used to be an upscale area of the city, full of cinemas and theaters. Cinelandia also has a nickname of “ Paris Carioca ” or “ Brazilian Broadway ”.

Municipal Theater: Located in Cinelandia Square, one of the most fascinating buildings of downtown Rio is without questions the Municipal Theater. This eclectic building full of golden details is almost a miniature of the Opera of Paris!

National Library: No more or no less than the biggest library of Latin America. This library is based on 60,000 books that John VI brought with him from Portugal 1808. The library has just finished a huge renovation work so it's very stunning to see from outside.

Lapa: The most bohemian neighborhood of Rio de Janeiro. Here we'll see the Carioca Aqueduct that was used to transport water from Carioca River until to Carioca Square and other parts of Downtown. Today Carioca Aqueduct is a famous landmark. We'll also catch a sight of a building that looks like a Mayan Pyramid. Not to disappoint you, but actually it's not a pyramid, but the Metropolitan Cathedral of St. Sebastian of Rio de Janeiro.

05 Day: Iguazu Argentinean side of the Falls

With a total area of 55,500 ha, Iguazu National Park is named after the river that marks its northern boundary. There, in the midst of a lush sub-tropical jungle, is majestic Iguazu Falls, one of the planet's largest and most spectacular on account of the river's powerful flow and its more than 275 drops. You will venture into the midst of its drops and falls, following a pathway of raised footbridges, thereby being able to appreciate this wonder from many different angles. The lower circuit puts you so close to the water that you will feel a part of nature and the constant mist will cool you off. At the top circuit, you will stop at different lookouts, climbing until you reach the incredible " Garganta del Diablo ", Devil's Throat, undoubtedly the most spectacular of all the falls, whose waters drop more than 80 meters.

Option 1: River adventure – 12 minutes ( Argentina )

Your river adventure begins at the docks located at the end of the lower circuit, across from San Martin Island, where a powerful speed boat await to take you into the lower canyon of the Iguazu River and to circle the island until you reach the base of Tres Mosqueteros Drop, where you will be able to see drops on both the Brazilian and Argentine side, as well as the Garganta del Diablo. The icing on the cake is a visit to the Argentine side of the falls, where you will "baptized" at the bottom of the San Martin Drop, the largest a boat can approach.

Difficulty: 100m staircase.

Option 2: The Great Adventure – 1 hour ( Argentina )

In a ride that combines rainforest and falls, you will enter the lush jungle vegetation in trucks accompanied by experimented guides. After the ride, you will walk to the docks to board a boat that will take you to the lower Iguazu River. As you shoot the rapids, you will get a great view of the drops from the haven of San Martin Island to Tres Mosqueteros Drop, including a panoramic view of the Garganta del Diablo. The boat will then circle the island until reaching the most exciting part of the trip: San Martin Drop, the largest a boat can approach.
